

REVISED SCHEDULE

February 11, 2019: Exponential/Transformational Technologies in Independent Schools - A Deeper Dive

9:30 AM-10:00 AM ~ Check-in and Continental Breakfast – Performing Arts Center Lobby

10:00 AM-11:30 AM ~ Changing Times Require Changing Minds: Education in the Future – Theater
Andrew Van Schaack, Ph.D., Vanderbilt University

11:30 AM-12:45 PM ~ Concurrent Workshops [Various Classrooms in St. Norbert Hall]

- Designing a Better World with VR/AR – Theater
Marie Graham, Mount Vernon Presbyterian School
- Using Robotics to Teach Multiple Computer Coding Languages – Room 002
Tim Clarke, William Penn Charter School
- Bringing Ideas to Life with Mixed Reality and the Microsoft HaloLens – Room 004
Braden Bonner and Rob Johnson with students, La Salle College High School
- Engaging Students in Innovation and Engineering through the Field of Soft Robotics – Room 006
Holly Golecki, The Haverford School
- Seeing the Unseen – Room 007
Adam Barney with Tyler Kaplan (student), YSC Academy
- Best Practices for Building an Innovative and Cost-Effective Robotics Program - 17 Years of Trial-and-Error – Room 008
Chris Odom, George School
- Robotics as Life Lessons – Room 014
Alison Bishop, The Perkiomen School

12:45-1:30 PM ~ Networking Lunch [Cafeteria in the Student Life Center]

1:30-2:45 PM ~ Concurrent Workshops [Various Classrooms in St. Norbert Hall]

- Meaningful Making and the Next Generation of Learning Tools – Room 002
Corey Kilbane, William Penn Charter School
- Disrupting Thinking for Innovation – Room 004
James Barnes, JB Innovation and Peter Thayer, St. Anne's Episcopal School
- Innovative Habits & Mindsets – Room 006
Liam Gallagher, Upland Country Day School
- Makerspace and Genius Hour: Transforming the Learning/Teaching Experience – Room 007
Anup Somalwar, Cornerstone Christian Academy / Edu-Tech Academic Solutions
- What Does Emerging Tech Look Like in K-8? – Room 008
Robin Beaver and Gary Perez, Holy Child School at Rosemont
- Think 360: Creating Immersive Learning Experiences Beyond the Classroom – Room 014
Erin Pudlo and Amanda Neill, Ursuline Academy

We are extremely grateful to the following Event Underwriters for their support.

